BY LOUIE KARAGIANNES, DIRECTOR OF TECHNOLOGY

2020, the year the earth stood still, will forever be remembered by those that survived it. I can still remember where I was when I was told to stay home and not return to work. That I was being asked to please refrain from entertainment or explore any pleasure outside the safety of my home. For a while I debated in my head the seriousness of the demands by our heads of state; should I have more faith in God to think that I shouldn't be afraid to venture out? Is it silly to think that God would allow for me to become sick by sacrificing my time to come and worship him in his home? As a lover of history, I think back to heroes like George Washington who led an army of men in a devastating war during the smallpox epidemic that killed one in three that it infected. Without their sacrifice, we may never have become a free nation. My frustration would continue as I try to deal with the fact that my wedding in September is in jeopardy of being canceled, a time where I was looking forward to creating a bond that will last till death being postponed because of this order to be at home. My honeymoon was going to be the first time I ventured outside of this wonderful country to experience Rome, Barcelona, Pisa, Florence, and Naples. I had plans to go with the 8th grade to Washington D.C., which is normally what I would be writing to you about on this lovely Sunday sharing. I could continue, but I digress because I think you get the picture. Being younger and inexperienced in some life lessons, I feel invincible and untouchable and just want to believe that this is silliness and that nothing should stop me in being allowed to give up these dreams this year. I mean, nothing has ever stopped me before from chasing my dreams, why should I start now?

Eventually however, I began to see God present in my daily life again. I saw my home parish of St. Demetrios in Libertyville jump from Sunday service and struggling collections, to becoming a successful online driving force bringing all kinds of content to millions of people online; which was never possible during the status quo. I saw St. Ben's become a beacon of possibilities in an online school environment, as well as, successfully launch the Gala online. Lastly, I have seen people connect with one another as a family by bringing that central bond where we are not worried about being late for this or having to go to that. All the extracurricular activities, the jobs, the chores, the nonsense that gets in the way of a wholesome family meal, family game night, and connectedness which mankind cherished since its conception. The family is the home and likeness of Christ in the church, we have forgotten this and continue to see the family disintegrate in this country. God however has blessed us with an opportunity to correct it. Even though work has been busier than ever with launching the online platform, assisting in technology communications and education logistics; the time I save in everyday nonsense like commuting has allowed me to spend time with my family, see my future in-laws, spend time outdoors and enjoy God's creation, and restore some peace and humility in my heart.

As Americans we always focus on the here and now, constantly moving and never stopping to enjoy the little things. We refuse to accept inconvenience in our lives. I think that God has given us an opportunity to see his actions, presence, and our purpose by forcing us to remain at home. Take this opportunity wherever you are and no matter what life is throwing at you to remember that there are always people there that love you. Show them that you love them too! Take a breath and get some exercise outside, enjoy what God has given us in his blessed creation. Take this time to learn and connect with God, read his scripture, say your prayers and thank Him for life. Don't let life hold you down through work and obligations, enjoy this break and find God where you can. In the words of my childhood hero and favorite Chicagoan:

“Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop to look around once in a while, you could miss it.”

– Ferris Bueller

First and foremost, all we can say is "WOW" to the SUCCESS of the 2020 VIRTUAL GALA!

When we started planning for the 2020 Gala, we were excited to be returning to the beautiful space at Rockwell on the River. We learned from feedback from the 2019 Gala and were preparing for a fantastic 2020 Gala, celebrating again as a community, when COVID19 started. With the Social Distancing in effect, we spent time as a committee discussing the best way to approach the new reality and what it meant for our fundraising goals. As you are all aware, the dollars raised from this annual event heavily support the St. Benedict school operating budget, particularly our amazing teachers and administrative staff. As such, we knew the event had to move forward in some capacity. We had 3 weeks to plan, coordinate and pull off something that St. Ben's had never done before - a virtual Gala. It is testament to the amazing administrative staff and the committee members that we were able to create this event in such a short time. There are so many people to thank, but first and foremost hats off to the staff at St. Ben's. Not only were they already dealing with pivoting from an in person learning platform to e-learning, we asked them to help us in creating another virtual event and they rose to the occasion.

Specifically, the success of this event would not have been possible without the dedication and hard work of the following:

Father Steve Kanonik	Jean Hybinette	Maria Tubay	Mary Deletioglu
Rachel Gemo	Jazel Gabriel	Erico Ramirez	Janet Gallagher
Joe Accardi	Jeremy Kiobassa	Rachel Waldron	Ben Mazzone

Thank you also goes to all those that donated to both the silent and live auction, purchased tickets and supported our teachers through teacher tickets...your generosity truly made a difference. We had far fewer auction items to offer this year as a result of the pandemic and ticket sales were able to bridge that gap. The teachers also did a fabulous job with reinventing their treats and marketing them with videos! Thank you also to all of our sponsors, without whom the evening would not have been possible. Finally, none of this would have been possible without the time and energy of our committee. Thank you all for your tireless commitment to a great cause!

And now for what you have all been waiting for...the numbers.

What a great evening it turned out to be and we are so thankful and blessed to be part of such an amazing community! The evening and the week leading up to it exceeded our expectations in so many ways. There were so many moments that evening that warmed our hearts and brought tears to our eyes. We knew we were part of a special community but Saturday night showed us just how special it truly is. Our goal for the Gala this year was to raise $150,000 for the operating budget and $30,000 for Fund A Need.

We knew these goals were lofty especially in light of the hurdle not being in person presented but we did it! Our numbers are not final as more donations are coming in, but so far we have raised $225,000 net of expenses and our contribution to the Build Our Future Fund.

Specifically, $160k for the operating budget and $65k for Fund A Need. Unbelievable!

As a committee, thank you again. We were blessed to be a part of planning and executing this years' event and look forward to when we can all be together again to celebrate as a community...in person.

God Bless.

Your 2020 Virtual Blue Ribbon Gala Co-Chairs,
Laura Burns, Isabelle Ryan, and Linda Wolf

E-LEARNING SUCCESS

St. Benedict Prep has received rave reviews for the implementation of the virtual e-learning program. The weekly schedules include virtual office hours, a daily physical education period, and a weekly virtual all-school Mass. Students are sustaining community in a virtual environment and learning important lessons about resiliency, cooperation, and social responsibility. In a recent parent survey, St. Benedict Prep received a 93% approval rating. Congratulations to faculty and staff for this positive vote of confidence.

“Thank you for doing a great job getting the school through the pandemic. The faculty and the staff are on top of this transition and the hard work shows in the results. Very much appreciated.”

Mrs. Christy has gone above and beyond in her live engagement, and even dropped off treats to students mailboxes with a kind note. This is above and beyond. We appreciate her.

- SBPS Parent, Preschool

St. Ben's is doing an amazing job with e-learning! We have been able to accomplish so much with the guidance of their teachers. Having taught in a classroom myself, I know that what you are all doing is not an easy feat. Thank you so much!

PRAY WITH YOUR IMAGINATION

St. Ignatius was convinced that God can speak to us surely through our imagination as through our thoughts and memories. In the Ignatian tradition, praying with the imagination is called contemplation. Ignatian contemplation is especially suited for the Gospels. As you visualize the events in the gospels, you pay attention to the sounds, tastes, smells and feelings of the events. You use your imagination to dig deeper into the stories so that God can communicate with you in a personal way. If you are interested in learning more about imaginative prayer and being part of a group where you can experience it through guided meditation, please contact me at elindia@stbenedict.com or at (773)509-3806.

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION

Our first reading is from the Book of Acts. In fact, it is the beginning of that Book. Acts was written by St. Luke. It is a continuation of his Gospel in many ways. We do not learn that much about Luke from the New Testament. Most historians agree that he was a doctor; he was a Gentile; and he was a companion of St. Paul.

Acts is basically the continuation of Jesus' work as described in the Gospels. In effect it describes how the Good News traveled from Jerusalem to Rome. Our readings today are filled with reminders that Jesus' work is not completed. He commissioned His followers to continue it after His Ascension into Heaven. Among those commissioned so to speak is each of us.

The Lord's work continues from that day to today. However, for it to continue and for the love He shared and displayed to be the factor it needs to be in our parish and in the Church and in the world it is reliant upon us.

It was St. Teresa of Avila who wrote, "Christ has no body now but yours. No hands, no feet on earth but yours. Yours are the eyes through which He looks compassion on this world. Yours are the feet with which He walks to do good. Yours are the hands through which He blesses all the world. Yours are the hands, yours are the feet, yours are the eyes, you are His Body. Christ has no body now on earth but yours."
